27. 2FA - an additional authentication security measure, such as a code generated by an app installed on the User's mobile device, SMS code, or another external authorization service chosen by Kontomatik.

§3 Scope of Service Operations

1. Based on its functionalities, the Insight Platform allows the Client to use the following Service Operations:
 - a) provision of the Client Account;
 - b) provision of the User Account;
 - c) configuration and management of the Client Account, including granting, changing, and revoking relevant permissions;
 - d) configuration and management of User Accounts, including granting, changing, and revoking relevant permissions and their assigned roles;
 - e) downloading End-User Data in a format dependent on the type of Service from which they result (e.g. a report);
 - f) displaying End-User Data;
 - g) uploading and saving End-User Data in a format necessary for the execution of the relevant Service (e.g. a PDF file);
 - h) deleting End-User Data;
 - i) setting access conditions for the API interface (e.g. managing API keys);
 - j) generating access data necessary for executing some types of Services (e.g. access codes);
 - k) ongoing communication regarding service provision and quality levels (e.g. reporting issues with the API or server performance, informing about planned technical changes);

- l) adding to the list of subscribers email addresses of individuals who do not have a User Account but, on behalf of the Client, will participate in the communication referred to in point k) of this section;
 - m) access to and downloading the Service usage statistics.
2. Access to the Platform's functionalities may be limited based on the scope of the Cooperation Agreement.
 3. Service Operations are provided for the duration of the Cooperation Agreement or until the conditions specified in §4(10) are met.

§4 Client/User Account. Registration and Usage Conditions

1. The Client Account is created by Kontomatik Personnel after signing the Cooperation Agreement.
2. The Client Account, depending on the terms of the Cooperation Agreement, may include access to a Test Account or a Production Account.
3. The Client Account is managed through the User Account(s).
4. User access to specific functionalities of the System may be subject to limitations based on the scope of the Cooperation Agreement and the permissions assigned to that User by the Client. The scope of permissions related to a given role is primarily defined in Appendix No. 1 to the ToS.
5. The process of setting up a User Account includes:
 - a) sending, via the Platform, by Kontomatik Personnel or an authorized User, an invitation to the designated person via email with a link directing them to the appropriate webpage for registration;
 - b) activation of the link by the designated person, followed by the following actions on the registration page:
 - i. creating a login;
 - ii. creating a password;
 - iii. configuring 2FA in accordance with the provided instructions;
6. The User accepts the ToS after creating an account upon first logging in to the Service or upon first logging in after the ToS have been entered, if the User created an account before their entry.
7. The registration invitation is valid for 7 days. After this period, a new invitation must be sent.
8. One User Account may be assigned to multiple Client Accounts. Each assignment may be linked to a different role.
9. A User Account assigned to a Client Account allows the execution of all actions in line with the assigned role on both the Test Account and the Production Account.
10. The User Account may be deleted:
 - a) as a result of a decision by the Client or an authorized User to remove the account;
 - b) due to the deletion of the Client Account, particularly at the moment the Cooperation Agreement is terminated;
 - c) if activities inconsistent with the ToS, the Cooperation Agreement, or the law are detected on the User Account;
 - d) if Authentication Data assigned to the User Account is stolen or lost; or it may be deleted after 12 months of inactivity (no login) on the account.
11. The Client acknowledges that deleting the User Account may result in the loss of access to some System functionalities, if that User Account covered all the Client's permissions for using the Platform.

§5 Rights and Obligations of the Service Provider (Kontomatik)

1. Kontomatik exercises due diligence to ensure continuous and uninterrupted Service provision, subject to sections 2-3 below and other provisions of the ToS
2. Kontomatik reserves the right to suspend, limit access to, or terminate Service Operations, particularly:

- a) when necessary to modify the technical method of Service functionality, conduct maintenance, update the Platform, or when a Service is no longer offered, particularly due to changes in the Cooperation Agreement or the Service Provider's general offer;
 - b) in special cases affecting the security or stability of the Platform;
 - c) when the Client's or User's actions go beyond the provisions of the ToS or Cooperation Agreement, are contrary to good practice or law, or may endanger data security or disrupt the Platform's operation.
3. Kontomatik is not liable for limited or unavailable access or malfunctioning of the System caused by:
 - a) the behavior of IT systems not administered by Kontomatik but essential for Platform availability and proper operation, such as outages or delays in data transmission;
 - b) circumstances of force majeure;
 - c) usage of the Platform by the Client or User (or anyone acting on their behalf) in a manner inconsistent with the ToS, Cooperation Agreement, good practice, or law;
 - d) and other situations unrelated to Kontomatik's non-performance or improper performance of duties affecting System quality and availability.
 4. Kontomatik retains legal protection over all content related to the Platform, including but not limited to software, databases, logos, and other graphic elements, including their selection and presentation.

§6 Rights and Obligations of the Service Recipient (Client)

1. The Client acknowledges that the use of the System is voluntary, and its purpose is to support processes related to using Kontomatik Services under the Cooperation Agreement.
2. The Client is obliged to properly train and authorize Users to process personal data (for which the Client is the data controller) accessible via the Platform in accordance with the applicable principles of personal data protection. The Client and Users must handle End-User personal data in compliance with GDPR and the Client's internal security regulations.
3. The Client and the User have the right to stop using the Platform at any time, with the understanding that this will result in the loss of access to Service Operations.
4. The Client Account and the User Account are non-transferable.
5. The Client is responsible for the accuracy, completeness, and timeliness of all data required for proper use of Service Operations by the Client and User.
6. To protect the Client's interests, the Client and Users must keep Authentication Data confidential. The Client is solely responsible for managing and securing Authentication Data and bears all consequences of its loss, theft, or unauthorized disclosure or use.
7. The Client and Users are also required to refrain from:
 - a) providing false or outdated information and personal data;
 - b) using the Service Operations or Platform to publish or transmit offensive or otherwise unlawful content;
 - c) copying, modifying, distributing, transmitting, or otherwise using any works and databases made available on the Platform, excluding fair use;
 - d) taking actions that may impede or disrupt the functioning or usage of the Platform.

§7 Technical Requirements

1. To use the Insight Platform, at least the following technical conditions must be met:
 - a) using a device with internet access and the latest version of Mozilla Firefox, Google Chrome, Safari, Opera, or Samsung Internet with standard configuration, including enabled cookies and JavaScript;
 - b) having an active email account;

- c) installing software that allows reading files in XLSX and PDF formats;
- d) installing software that generates one-time access tokens as a second factor of user identification (2FA).
2. The Client is obligated to equip the device used to access the Insight Platform with antivirus software or take similar steps to secure the device against unwanted actions and to update software regularly.
3. The costs of meeting the technical requirements necessary to use the Insight Platform (including adjustments due to changes during the term of the Cooperation Agreement) are borne by the Client.

§8 Personal Data

1. Personal data of Users and Clients are processed in connection with access to the Insight Platform and the provision of Service Operations. The data controller is Kontomatik.
2. Personal data is processed for the purpose of providing Service Operations, especially for granting a license to the selected Insight Platform (legal basis: Art. 6(1)(b) GDPR).
3. Personal data may be transferred to entities providing technical, legal, or accounting services to Kontomatik.
4. Personal data will be stored for the period necessary to provide Service Operations or perform the Cooperation Agreement, and subsequently until the expiration of any potential claims or the legal obligation to retain data (whichever occurs later).
5. The User has the right to access their personal data, correct, delete, or restrict its processing, object to processing, and the right to data portability. The exercise of these rights must comply with Articles 16-21 GDPR and requires contact via the email address iod@kontomatik.com.
6. If Kontomatik processes personal data unlawfully, a complaint can be submitted to the President of the Polish Personal Data Protection Office.
7. If the Client provides Kontomatik with User data, the Client is the source of such data. The Client provides Kontomatik with data such as the name, email address, employer name, and job title, but not all categories are provided in every case.
8. Kontomatik uses cookies in the Insight Platform, i.e. text files stored on the User's computer. The cookies are not used to obtain any information about the User but to maintain the User's navigation parameters, login status, and aggregate statistical data about activity and preferences. The User can delete or change cookie settings in their browser, but this may result in difficulties in using the Platform.

§9 Complaint Procedure

1. Complaints related to the Insight Platform should be submitted via email to: support@kontomatik.com.
2. The complaint should contain the following information:
 - a) data identifying the entity submitting the complaint / name and surname of the person submitting;
 - b) a detailed description of the event that is the basis for the complaint (including the date of occurrence);
 - c) an email address for correspondence, particularly for sending a response to the complaint.
3. Kontomatik will consider the complaint within 21 days of receiving it unless additional information is needed. In such a case, the 21-day period begins from the date all necessary information is provided.

§10 Final Provisions

1. In matters not regulated by these ToS, the provisions of the Cooperation Agreement and the Act apply.
2. Kontomatik reserves the right to make changes to the ToS. Changes will be communicated at least 14 days in advance via email linked to the User Account. Editorial corrections or changes that do not affect the functioning of the Platform or the rights and obligations of the Client and Users do not constitute changes to the ToS.

3. Disputes related to the execution and interpretation of the ToS will be resolved by the common courts having jurisdiction over the Kontomatik registered office.
